About This Game

18 Floors is a VR experience combining room escape gameplay with puzzle elements. Players are transported to a mystic and foreboding space, where they must complete interconnected puzzle to escape each sealed room.

The first episode of the game is comprised of two rooms, the Phantom Room and Sea Express stage.

With her home planet destroyed 1000 years ago, Andrea, Queen of Naoh Star has been living hidden amongst humans, struggling to keep her race from eradication. When she learns of humanity's plan of genocide for her people, Queen Andrea decides to strike back at humanity by altering history itself. Players will follow Andrea as she travels to the secret time-bending black hole "18 Floors," discovering her true identity and uncovering a galactic conspiracy.

Game Features:

1. A suspenseful and thrilling VR puzzle experience
2. Mystifying puzzle designs with gameplay variety
3. VR Environments that feel as if they were real
4. A completely different but interlinked fantastic journeys one-and-only "enemy" perpetually running at a whopping great iron fence in some misguided attempt to get at me...so I'm happy. Oh, and we even get a sweet little carrot on a stick at the end, with those immortal words "To be continued" coming up on the screen. I don't doubt it for a second, Yuriy, my friend. I don't doubt it for a second.

Verdict: 5/10.

(PS Cheers for the free copy, Yuriy. One thing, though...I haven't received that five hundred bucks in my account yet. Any chance of speeding that up? I have several hard-core, illicit DRUG HABITS to feed here, my man...cheers again. Pleasure doing business with you!). Ok, so, there ain't much I can say that hasn't been said before about this game, so instead I'm gonna talk about a problem most warriors games share.

There are no fights.

When you come up to an officer, three things can happen: You hardly notice them before they die from a stray attack. You musou, stunlock, juggle or rage them before they even get a chance, or they actually manage to hit you and you die instantly.

You do not fight high level enemies, you hope to hit them before they hit you.

When I take down Lu Bu I'm not celebrating a victory, I'm sighing from a long juggling session.

When I took down the final boss it was just 'Deify. Unique magic. Unique magic. Unique magic.' and he's dead.

Now, blasting through mooks and taking out officers is the beating heart and soul of Warriors games, but I just wish there was more to the officer fights than "You win instantly. Except sometimes you die instantly.". Fun game. its very good. are there going to be any updates that add more? because that would be cool. but still a fun game anyway.. The lack of voiceover I didn't think would bother me; but it does seem really weird.

The HO scenes themselves are Ok, but there are great many objects where you need to 'do something else first.' That's fine, and often makes it more interesting. Here, though, the vast majority seem to be 'click on stuff until something opens or changes in some way.' Since you have absolutely no idea what is interactive, it comes down to random clicking on things. Nothing to do with observation or logic at all.

There are numerous slight errors or outright bugs which gradually add up to irritate. A crowbar is a 'wrecking bar' (maybe that's common usage? I'd never heard the term before). A 'clock' in a HO scene turns out to be a pocket watch. At one point I tried to use a bird I'd collected on a balcony. I was told 'That should be enough oil.' You are told to exploit the fact that an enemy is made of wood, but rather than use the pheonix you have with you, you have to go through a convoluted sequence to set termites on it. There have been loads of these little gripes already, and I've only visited about 1V5 of the scenes.

Oh, and the music? Not only repetative (hardly something new for a cheap HO game) but every so often there is a chime which sounds exactly a doorbell. I actually got up to answer the door twice before I decided to turn the music off.

So; it's a more-or-less passable HO with incredible attention to lack of detail. (I put it that way deliberately.)

I got it in a sale, and for a few pounds, it will probably be worth it if I can put up with the errors. If.

Edit: I couldn't. I got only a few scenes from the end, and suddenly nothing showed up on the map as 'to do'. Using a hint just brought up the map. Totally broken. I certainly won't be trying again. Total waste of 4 hours, all told. (Which I suppose is why I got it, but it was at least supposed to be a mostly enjoyable 4 hours.)

i bought this game 3 years ago and it was awesome. i had my computer wiped, so i bought it again a few months ago and was severely disappointed. Instead of matchmaking, it had servers, which i absolutely hate and out of the 400 lobbys, there was only one, nuketown 24/7. absolute garbage. i recommend getting a PC or bootcamp and play the other one. DO NOT BUY. I will not recommend this game until you fix teaming on solos. I'm not playing the game until there are no teams in solos.. Good game, but it crashed sometimes for me and that killed the experience.

Seems well polished and you can feel the effort on some details.

With a good price, it's worth a buy.. So much fun! It was nice to see classic Nancy revamped a bit. Very fun, and I've already recommended to some of my friends!. Very short, easy game; finished it in less than 1 1/2 hours. Weird graphics, a picture with an animated character that really did not match at all.
